Yes, You're Invited Inc (Y2i2)

At Yes, You're Invited, our mission is simple: inclusion. We are dedicated to making sure every child feels included and celebrated, despite special needs or other barriers. Our quarterly community birthday parties highlight 3-5 "Special Guests" with a birthday party, and also bring together families of similar life circumstances. Many of our guests have never been invited to a birthday party or had one of their own. We make it possible for those with limited social interactions to engage, have fun, and, most importantly, be themselves in a safe, fun, educational environment.

TRANSITIONAL

HOUSING

Bridge to Better Tomorrows

Bridge to Better Tomorrows is a supportive independent living housing program dedicated to helping adults build stable, independent, and productive lives. We provide safe, structured housing for individuals who have successfully completed treatment and are ready to transition into independent living, as well as other adults who would benefit from a supportive living environment while working towards self-sufficiency. Our mission is to bridge the gap between life's transitions and long-term stability by providing quality housing, transportation assistance, employment readiness support, life skills development, accountability, and connections to community resources that empower individuals to achieve lasting independence.
